PORT LIMA, Costa Rica, Feb. 8. Villagers near the volcano Poas are in flight today, following an eruption, reported to be the worst in the history of the mountain.

Streams of lava are flowing through the fertile valleys at the foot of the mountain and villages, towns and plan-tations are being destroyed.

Rocks weighing 200 pounds have been hurled two miles from the crater by the force of the cruption, crashing through the poofs of houses five kilometers from the foot of the mountain. Con-siderable destruction from this source occurred at La Lecheri.

The villages and towns in the volcano zone, almost as far as San Jose, the capital, have been deserted. In Cabadilla, the streets are filled with ashes at to the roofs of the houses.

It is reported there has been loss of life in the plantations.
